

HIGGS & JOHNSON

Counsel & Attorneys-at-Law

Associates Named Leading Lawyers in IFLR100 (2011 Edition)

Carolynn Vivian

Benjamin Wrench

Higgs & Johnson is pleased to announce that associates Carolynn Vivian and Benjamin Wrench have been listed as leading lawyers in IFLR1000 - 2011 edition. IFLR's rankings are based on the recommendations of in-house counsel at the world's most prominent financial institutions and companies, as well as the leading lawyers, attorneys and solicitors in each legal market covered. Leading lawyers are those lawyers most frequently named by interviewees as the leaders in their field.

Carolynn Vivian advises on all aspects of Corporate and Commercial law in the Cayman Islands, including public and private mergers and acquisitions, corporate and finance transactions, restructuring and local licensing.

Benjamin Wrench, Vice Chair of the Firm's Securities and Investment Funds practice group, has a wealth of experience in financial services law and practice, not least because of his earlier position at a derivatives clearing broker in London but also as a result of specialising in financial services law and unregulated collective investment schemes.

IFLR is now in its 21st edition and covers over 120 jurisdictions. It is the only publication of its kind to focus on the leading law firms for corporate finance worldwide.
