

HIGGS & JOHNSON

Counsel & Attorneys-at-Law

FIRM WELCOMES SARAH BOLTON AS HEAD OF FUNDS

Higgs & Johnson is pleased to announce that Ms. Sarah Bolton (pictured left) has joined the Cayman Islands office as Head of Funds.

Sarah has almost twenty years of commercial legal experience focusing on all aspects of the set-up, launch and restructuring of investment funds and private equity funds. She advises a wide range of clients, including investment managers, institutions and professional service providers, on fund structures using exempted companies, segregated portfolio companies, unit trusts and exempted limited partnerships.

Sarah trained and practiced with Clifford Chance and Macfarlanes in London and Brussels. Prior to joining Higgs & Johnson she worked in the Cayman Islands for over ten years for Ogier (formerly Boxalls) and most recently as Counsel for Appleby, including on secondment in Jersey.

Higgs & Johnson's objective is to remain at the forefront of the profession, providing clients with innovative, responsive, quality services. The partners are confident that the accomplished skills and talent which Sarah brings to the firm will be employed by her to further expand the Investment Funds practice.
